MUST UNPACK TO TRAVEL:

THE COMMON CORE STATE STANDARDS SHAPE A PATH TO INSTRUCTIONAL DESIGN

An Open Institute for English/Language Arts Teachers, K-12

How do you get where you're going if you don't have a map? The California Common Core State Standards have the potential to frame a profound course to student learning. To navigate the path and actualize our students' potential, we must unpack the key skills and knowledge the standards require of us.

In this interactive workshop, participants will:

- Uncover the meaning of the Common Core State Standards by delving into the murky waters of unfamiliarity;
- Develop concrete lessons designed to optimize student learning while honing the discipline-specific literacies students will need to meet the requirements of the Common Core State Standards;
- Increase their comfort levels in implementing lesson plans based on the Common Core State Standards;
- Develop a best practices toolkit to enhance their instructional programs; and
- Map the existing California State Standards to the Common Core State Standards.

Participants will finish the Institute with specific, Common Core-aligned lessons and instructional sequences and a library of resources to guide the implementation of the CCCSS in their classrooms.

- July 16- 20, 2012 from 9:00 a.m. until 3:00 p.m.
The Michael D. Eisner College of Education. Room 3117.
- Register and pay online at www.csun.edu/writingproject, complete the application on the back of this flyer, or send a P.O. to the address on the back.
- The $300 cost includes a Continental Breakfast each morning and all materials.
- Three CEUs will be available for purchase for an additional $270.
